

wildlife
watch
www.wildlifewatch.org.uk

SNUGGLING SWANS

Baby swans are called cygnets. When they're small, they often hitch a ride on their mum's back. This lets them get out of the cold water and keeps them safe from predators. They will also shelter under her wings to shade out the sun.